A Journey Through Milan Brera District

The Brera Collection pays homage to the 1970s Italian design sensibility, offering a fusion of vibrant hues and captivating patterns that defined the era. With a nod to the exuberant spirit of Milan's Brera District, known for its artistry and creativity, these fabrics invite you to embark on a journey through an era that celebrates both flair and sophistication.

WELCOME TO BRERA DISTRICT

“Doors open to beauty: a space rooted in Milanese tradition”. A unique style deeply embedded in culture and tradition, inspired by the vibrant city of Milan. Behind the rigorous buildings of this city, doorways open to unexpected and fascinating worlds, such as hall entrances and interior gardens. A vintage color palette of extreme and refined elegance enriches the unique atmosphere of the space.

BRERA IN A NUTSHELL

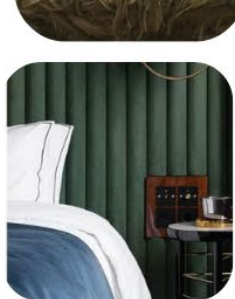

The “Brera” collection embraces geometric shapes as the foundation for a fresh approach to comfort, characterized by gentle curves, contours, and soft, inviting materials. By seamlessly blending aesthetics and utility, this collection sets a new benchmark for modern living, providing an immersive experience that captivates and indulges the senses.

ABOUT THE INFLUENCES

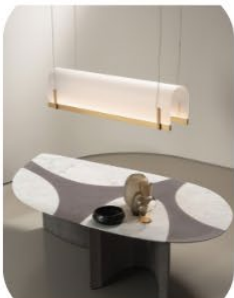

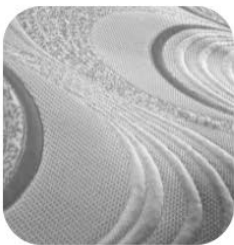

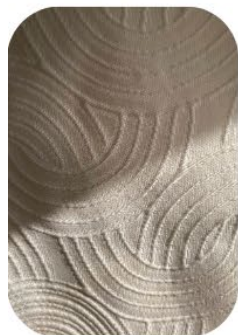

Brera Collection resumes different style currents inspired by the latest trends predictions for 2024: From Vintage Glamour to Retro Futurism, geometric shapes with an Italian retro influence are merged together in original fabrics made with great attention to quality and developed with technical advantages.

FOCUS: “VINTAGE GLAMOUR”

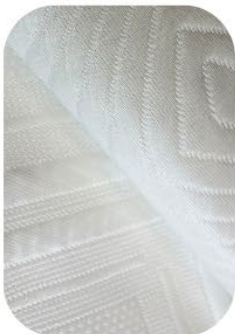

Vintage Glamour is a style that exudes elegance and luxury with a touch of nostalgia. It’s all about incorporating classic and glamorous elements with modern pieces to create a timeless look.

A circular inset image on the left side of the advertisement. It depicts a hotel room with a bed that has a black headboard and two white pillows. The bedspread is white with a black band across the middle that features the 'STELLINI' logo. The room has a red carpet and a stanchion with a rope barrier. In the foreground, there is a pile of discarded, crumpled clothes in various colors (purple, white, blue).

RiFAB

Our new RiFAB fabric series marks a significant step towards the conscious reuse of material resources in the fashion industry. By harnessing the potential of Cellulose Recovery from Worn-Out Clothes, we are transforming discarded textiles into high-quality materials for mattress fabrics. This innovative process not only redefines the concept of fashion sustainability, but also reimagines the future of bedding comfort. Join us on this journey of redefining possibilities and contributing to a more conscious and sustainable future.
